ANGRY MEN SEEK SLAYER OF IOWA GIRL AT CAPITAL

Nine-Year-Old Child Attacked Then Strangled Over the Week End

Des Moines, Ia., May 13.—(UP)—More than 100 men with bloodhounds and pistols hunted the banks of Four Miles creek today for the left-handed murderer of 9-year-old Evelyn Lee, whose body was flung into the bushes after she was attacked and strangled.

Threats of vengeance were on the lips of police, soldiers from Fort Des Moines and volunteers as they pounded the undergrowth for clues in the thinly populated section of the city. All other police work has been stopped.

Bloodhounds, taken to the spot where Evelyn's body was found late yesterday, failed to pick up a scent although several fresh tracks were found. The dogs today were led up and down the banks in hopes they would sniff out a new trail of the murderer.

Reward Fund Started.
A reward fund of $250 was started by the Des Moines Register and Tribune and Police Chief Henry Alper and Chief of Detectives Al Pederson were joined in the hunt by Safety Commissioner Roscoe Bane and the County Coroner.

The only definite clue was that the murderer strangled the child with his left hand and that he apparently drove his automobile down the creek bank over a little used trail to get rid of the girl's body.

Tobias C. Lee, father of the girl, was the only member of the grief-stricken family to give a thought to the manhunt.

Disappeared Saturday
"Have they got any clues? What are they doing to avenge this crime?" the father queried the police. Told that a half a dozen suspects had been arrested and that every effort was being bent to capture the killer he turned again to comfort the family of two small brothers and a step-mother.

Evelyn disappeared Saturday night after spending the afternoon with a friend. A playmate said she saw her in a delivery truck. There the trail ended until yesterday when a man and his son found the body as they picked flowers.

Physicians said she had been attacked before death and the hue and cry started.

"Wizard" Purchaser To Vandalia Farm

Robert L. Smith, a wizard purchasing agent, was on his way to the state work farm for an extended vacation today, the result of his campaign of buying which he started the first of March and conducted ruthlessly until Saturday night when he was trapped and turned over to the police. Smith was formerly of Polo but had been rooming in Dixon for several weeks.

Facing Judge Leech in the county court late yesterday afternoon, Smith pleaded guilty to an information containing three counts, charging him with having obtained goods under false pretenses, and was sentenced to serve six months at the state work farm at Vandalia and pay a fine of $250 and the costs. The court ordered that he stand committed until the fine and costs were paid.

Sheriff Ward Miller left early this morning to deliver Smith to his headquarters for at least the next six months.

Dixon Fans To See Baseball At Night

Baseball fans of Dixon and vicinity are to witness a game of baseball played on a field illuminated by a battery of huge electric light. A diamond is being laid out at the Dixon Airport and on Tuesday evening, May 27, the Dixon Independents will meet the California Owls, a traveling organization, who carry their own system of electrical illumination for night baseball.

The Owls have travelled through California, Texas and Florida and are now on tour in the northern states demonstrating the night baseball novelty which has proven quite a drawing card. They have a good baseball team and the fans of Dixon and vicinity are assured a fine evening's entertainment.

FRENCH FLIERS COMPLETE JOURNEY ACROSS SOUTH ATLANTIC WITH MAIL FROM PARIS, FRANCE, TO RIO JANEIRO

Rio Janeiro, May 13.—(AP)—Bringing with them the first trans-Atlantic airmail to South America, Jean Mermoz, French aviator, and two companions landed at 6:12 A. M. (4:12 A. M. E. S. T.) today at Natal, near the northeastern tip of the continent.

AVIATOR TRYING TO BEAT LINDY'S TIME IS BEHIND

Col. Turner Lost Forty-Five Minutes On The First Leg Today

Wichita, Kans., May 13.—(UP)—Col. Roscoe Turner, attempting to break Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's one-stop record from coast to coast, landed at the airport here at 10:44 A. M. today.

Lindbergh made the 1249 miles here in six hours, 56 minutes and 10 seconds. Turner made the flight from Los Angeles here in 7 hours, 41 minutes, approximately 45 minutes slower than Lindbergh's record.

Col. Turner refueled and resumed his flight at 11:12 A. M. Turner stuck in the mud on the southeast end of the field when he attempted to take off after shipping 180 gallons of gasoline for the rest of his flight.

A fire truck and a tractor rushed to his aid and pulled him out of the hole. He barely cleared telephone wires at the end of the field.

He still was optimistic over beating Lindbergh's record, as he will have a tail wind most of the remaining distance, according to weather reports he received here.

LION CUB IS MASCOT

Los Angeles, May 13.—(UP)—Col. Roscoe Turner, with a lion cub as a mascot, took off here at 1 A. M. PCT, today for New York in an attempt to establish a new transcontinental speed record.

Col. Turner planned to take a course similar to that flown by Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh when they recently established a record of 14 hours 23 minutes and 27 seconds for the flight.

Col. Turner left the United Airport carrying 415 gallons of gasoline which he deemed sufficient to carry him to Wichita, Kas., the only stop scheduled enroute. He said he would land there for fuel and weather reports.

Counted on Winds.

Like the famous trans-Atlantic flier, Col. Turner expected to attain high speed by keeping to altitudes between 10,000 and 16,000 feet above sea level.

He also counted on favorable tail winds to aid him.

The plane is an express model Lockheed with a rated top speed of about 180 miles an hour. Special features include a supercharger and reserve fuel tanks to facilitate high altitude and long distance flight.

Both Turner and Gilmore, the lion mascot, wore parachutes the one for the cub being specially made to accommodate his weight.

Col. Turner has figured in several endurance and distance flights and started on a similar venture a year ago but was forced down at Tulare, Calif. He has the distinction of floating in airplane to earth from 5,000 feet elevation by means of a parachute.

Ignored Order Of State Policeman

John Hardy of Rockford did not report to Judge Leech in the County Court yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock as ordered to by State Highway Officer Hal Roberts, who arrested him Sunday night on route 70 south of Rochelle for reckless driving, and as a result a bench warrant was issued. Hardy was arrested in Rockford and placed in the county jail there to await the arrival of an officer from Dixon. Sheriff Ward Miller went to Rockford and brought Hardy back to the Lee county jail last evening at 8 o'clock. He was taken before Judge Leech in the County Court where he pleaded guilty to the charge contained in the information and was assessed a fine of $25 and costs. He was unable to pay the total amount and was returned to jail until the remainder of his fine and the costs were guaranteed by Rockford friends. Hardy told Sheriff Miller that friends told him to pay no heed to the state officer's order to be in court at 2 o'clock and he promised he would obey in the future.

AMBOY COUPLE APPREHENDED IN SALEM MONDAY

Will Face Delinquency Charges When Returned To This City

Melvin Appleman and Miss Twyla Horner, both of Amboy, for whom a general search has been conducted for several days, were arrested late yesterday afternoon near Salem, Ill., and are being returned to Dixon this afternoon by Sheriff Ward Miller.

According to reports from the sheriff's office at Salem the couple had made several attempts to secure a marriage license but had been refused because of the youthful appearance of the girl. They were said to have left Salem yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock bound for St. Louis, but were halted by the sheriff and held awaiting the arrival of officers from Dixon.

A state warrant charging Appleman and his 15-year-old companion with delinquency was sworn out before Justice William Terrill of Dixon, the girl's father making the complaint. Sheriff Miller was armed with this warrant when he left for Salem early this morning. Both will be brought back to Dixon and held in the county jail pending a hearing before Judge Leech in the County Court.

The Horner girl left her home in Amboy last Friday morning, supposedly to go to school. When she did not return home at the noon hour her parents started an investigation and learned that she had not attended her classes. It was then learned that Appleman, who had been keeping company with the girl was also missing. The girl's parents feared that she had been kidnapped or had eloped and gone to Chicago.

The suspicious actions of the pair, who with a second young man, had been staying a small town near Salem, attracted the attention of a deputy sheriff, it was reported to Sheriff Miller yesterday afternoon. The officer believed that they were runaways and it was reported that they had made several unsuccessful attempts to secure a marriage license but had been refused.

RETIRING NAVY FLIER SAYS HIS GOOD-BYE; THRILL

Lt. Williams Demonstrated "Inverted Fling" Stunt

BY OSCAR LEIDING
Associated Press Aviation Editor

Washington, May 13.—(AP)—Lieutenant Alfred J. Williams, noted Naval aviator, has said his farewell to the service with a new maneuver—the lone remaining feat, he says, not previously accomplished by aviation. It is called an "inverted fling" stunt.

Two days before his resignation from the Navy goes into effect, spectators were privileged today to reveal a flight they witnessed Saturday in which the maneuver was demonstrated.

Performing high in the air, Williams fluttered towards the earth, the landing gear on the plane on top and himself hanging downward with only his safety belt holding him to the craft.

He tipped the plane from side to side, checking it just short of the point at which it would fall in a deadly spin and zig-zagged downward like a playing card dropped from a skyscraper.

The maneuver, he explained, has no military use but is of value to aviators in inverted flight to teach them when and how to avoid spinning if their craft begins tipping from side to side.

Williams worked out the method at home with small models studying the characteristics of the miniature planes in the novel maneuver and calculating how he could manipulate the controls.

In the actual flying demonstration he used a single seat biplane with special equipment in the gasoline and oil tanks to permit inverted flight. The greater part of the 45 minutes he was in the air, he flew upside down. At one time he twice encircled the naval air station Annapolis.

ASSEMBLY HAS VOTED RECESS UNTIL TUESDAY

Members Of Revenue Investigating Board Are Criticized

BULLETIN
Springfield, Ill., May 13.—(UP)—A special session of the state legislature which convened here yesterday at the call of Governor L. L. Emmerson to consider revision of the state tax system, adjourned today until next Tuesday at 10 A. M.

Springfield, Ill., May 13.—(AP)—Recess of the special session of the General Assembly until 10 o'clock next Tuesday morning, was prefaced here today by a verbal flurry over procedure, during which Minority Leader Michael Igoe, Chicago, charged Harrison B. Riley of Chicago and other members of the Revenue Investigation Commission, with affronting the legislature by not being here.

"Everyone's convenience except the legislators was consulted in calling this special session," Igoe stormed, "members of the special commission busied themselves running about the state demanding the session and now that we are down here they have nothing ready for us if this treatment continues, the Assembly will soon be in such a temper that it will pass nothing."

"It was a deliberate affront to this body to keep us here today, waiting for Riley and his commission. We might just as well have gone home last night. It was well known then that Riley wouldn't be here. If he doesn't come here any oftener than he gets to Chicago from California he won't see much of him at any time."

Devine Back Igoe
Rep. John P. Devine, Dixon, concurred with the expressed views of Representative Igoe, whereupon Representative Elmer Schnackenberg, Chicago, asked the reason for the hurry to act on a revenue resolution when there were other bills to work on.

"A resolution," he said, "can be adopted in one day, but a bill takes at least five days for passage. Why must we fret about the revenue resolution while there are other bills ready?"

Rep. Devine immediately charged Schnackenberg with obstructionism. "There must be a show down now," he said, "you are the one who threw the monkey wrench in the machinery last session when we sought to pass the joint revenue resolution."

The motion to recess until next Tuesday to give time to act on the revenue resolution was adopted by a viva voce vote.

In its present stage the resolution provides for removing the general property tax and uniformity clause from the state constitution. As a substitute it would insert the clause providing that:

"The General Assembly shall have power to enact laws to provide revenue."

Would Assure Vote
Passage of the resolution by the assembly would put the proposal to amend the constitution on the ballot at the November election. Approval of the change in its present form would give the legislature almost unlimited powers of taxation.

"This is a matter in which we most certainly should not act in haste," Schnackenberg said. "It would be fully and a mistake to say we're going to listen for two days to the wishes of the people and then close the doors."

Representative Devine shouted across the house that "this is his first step to throttle this effort to amend our worn out revenue system just as he did last session."

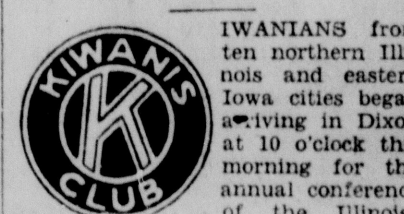

Litigation of the public discussion of the proposed amendment to Tuesday and Wednesday of next week was approved by almost all of the legislators when Representative Devine's motion was put to a vote.

Prior to the joint session the Senate advanced three bills appropriating $110,000 for the expenses of the session to third reading. Similar action was taken by the House on the expense appropriation. The

Dixonite Couldn't Identify Suspects

Stephen Paddock of this city was today called upon to assist upon if possible in identifying the killers of James Danko, alias Louie the Greek, whose body was riddled with machine gun fire and thrown in a ditch beside a road near Chicago last week. Chief of Detectives John Stege of Chicago sent photograph of two alleged gangsters suspects and the dead man to Chief J. D. Van Bibber this morning, with a request that they be shown to Mr. Paddock for the purpose of identification.

The letter stated that Paddock was held up and robbed in Chicago in May, 1925, the robbers taking his automobile, which was later used in a robbery in which a Chicago police officer was shot and killed. The Dixon man could not identify either of the three photographs which were shown to him by Chief Van Bibber this morning and they were to be returned to the Chicago Detective Bureau.

SEA GULLS
HOW dark the barren reaches,
Covered with sea-weed brown,
When the tide slinks out
From the beaches—
Tis then the gulls come down.

Far over the desolate islands
They wheel in the face of the sun,
And flash their wide white pinions
As they float down one by one.

In the care of the heavenly Father
Fed by both land and sea,
What no man sowed they gather,
A harvest given free.

The tide creeps inward softly,
Then the limp sea-weeds uplift,
To float in the clear green currents
That swing and eddy and shift.

And the gulls that crowd together
Fly upward one by one,
Till the air is white a-feather
With wings that flash in the sun.

Mrs. W.A. Guynn Honored Sister's Birthday

On Saturday, Mrs. W. A. Guynn of Grand Detour delightfully entertained at luncheon in honor of the birthday of her sister, Mrs. John S. Warner, Rock Island Road, Dixon. The appointments for the table were in delicate pink and green, and a profusion of spring flowers in these shades added beauty. A pretty feature of the luncheon was a large birthday cake, bearing pale green candles in pink rose holders. In the afternoon the party enjoyed a motor ride and a visit to the girlhood home of Mrs. Warner, returning in the evening to the Guynn home for a picnic supper. Mrs. Warner received many gifts to commemorate the happy occasion with the best wishes of the donors.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. G. C. Bain, Mrs. E. F. Knott and daughter Betty Jean of Stillman Valley and Mrs. Ada Teeter of Dixon.

Jubilee Party WHMS Friday Evening Was An Enjoyable Event

A most interesting and inspiring meeting was held Friday evening in the Methodist church, the occasion being the Golden Jubilee Birthday Party of the Woman's Home Missionary Society.

A reception was held in the parlors of the church where the guests were greeted by the officers of the society dressed in costumes of 1880, the year of the organization. During the reception an organ and violin recital by Miss Blake Grover and Miss Viola Vaage was enjoyed by all.

Later all repaired to the dining room which was beautifully decorated in red, white and blue, with a profusion of spring flowers. A large lighted birthday cake graced the center table. A sumptuous banquet was served by the Wesleyan Missionary Society.

During the banquet the following songs were sung, "Here and There,"

"Fifty Golden Years of Service," and "Rejoice, Rejoice."

Invocation—Rev. Stephenson.
The President of the Dixon Society Mrs. H. D. Bills gave a welcome to the members and guests, also spoke of the five year projects working up to this Jubilee year.

She then introduced the program leader, Mrs. Alice J. Anderson, who had been the Birthday Secretary for five years, speaking in praise of her faithfulness and interest in the work of the Society.

The first number on the program was a sketch of the organization of the National Society given by the First Vice President, Mrs. Ed. Shawger.

Miss Flora Seals very ably explained the project picture, "Looking Backward and Thinking Forward."

Mrs. A. D. George then favored with a delightful solo, "Our Fifty Years." She was accompanied by Mrs. Blake Grover.
Mrs. Anderson gave a short history of the Dixon Society which was organized in 1889 with twenty charter members, four of whom were present at the banquet. Mrs. Horace Street, Mrs. J. W. Watts, Mrs. Emma Ives and Mrs. Clara Rowe, Mrs. Wm. Thompson, also present, has been a member of a Home Missionary Society the fifty years of its organization, being a charter member of the London, England, Society.

Miss Jennie Laing was then presented who with a few well chosen words introduced Mrs. George C. Heritage of Oak Park, the speaker of the evening, whose subject was, "Martyr Center in the Ghetto of Chicago," one of the Community Houses supported by the W. H. M. S.

Her audience was held spell bound by her vivid descriptions, and all showed much interest in this work.

Too much cannot be said of Mrs. Heritage for the time and work she is giving to this field of labor.
Mr. Heritage being a guest at the banquet was called on for a few remarks. He spoke of their love for Dixon and of the pleasure it always gives them to return to their old home. Mr. Heritage is now Superintendent of Crane Junior College in Chicago.

Much credit is due Mrs. Bills and her officers for the success of this birthday party.

W. R. C. Held Interesting Meet Monday

Dixon Woman's Relief Corps No. 218, Auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, held a very interesting meeting Monday afternoon in Grand Army Hall, with a splendid attendance of members and two comrades present. Balloting on candidates was part of the regular work. Several members of the Relief Committee reported distributing clothing and calling on the sick. Several members were reported on the sick list.

Department general orders No. 9, were read announcing that the 47th Department convention will be held in Rock Island June 10-11-12th for the purpose of rendering on account of work accomplished during the past year, electing officers for the ensuing year and to legislate for the good of the order. Woman's Club Hears Girl Scout Work

The Scout program presented to the Dixon Woman's Club audience Saturday afternoon proved to be a very interesting one.

Mrs. Jackson, speaker for the afternoon told some very interesting facts on Scout work. Her talk was exceptionally fine and educational to all interested in Scout work.

The Girl Scout demonstration of knot tying and the little play presented by the Scout Troops, under Miss Lucille Trautman's supervision, was clever and entertaining.

Miss Avis Cromwell played a very pretty pipe organ solo which was much enjoyed and the Girls' High School Glee Club furnished additional music, all of which added greatly to the program.

Mrs. Goeke, chairman of the American Home and Garden Dept. of the Club presented a suggestion that the club sponsor a Visiting Garden Week, and that all citizens of Dixon having pretty gardens, open them to the public at this time and all who will welcome visitors present their names to Mrs. Goeke and she in turn would present the names to The Dixon Telegraph.

There are so many pretty gardens in Dixon that the club feels this would be a splendid opportunity for all interested in beautifying their gardens. The date for this visitors week will be published later.

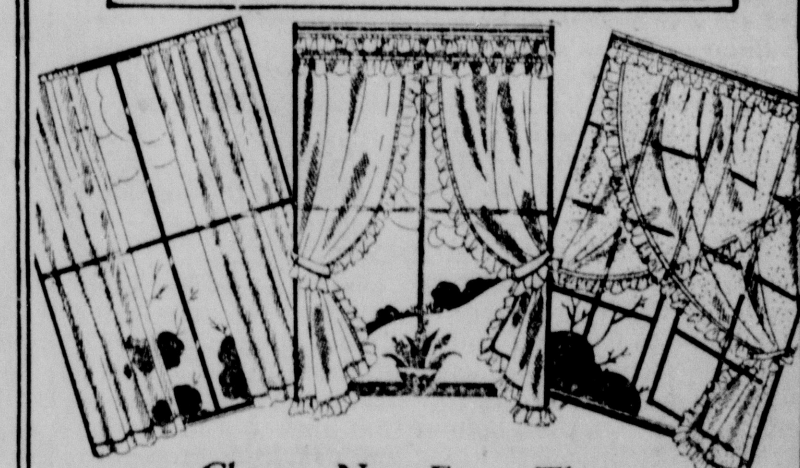

The able reports of the district convention held at Erie May second and third, were given by Mrs. E. H. Prince and Mrs. Louis Piche, who were the delegates from the Dixon Woman's club.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses in charge at the conclusion of the meeting. Hostesses were: Miss Scott, Mesdames Rorick, Kaylor, Tromboid, Fannie Warr, Walker, Parker, Strook, Misses Swarts.

Tickets for the May luncheon are now available by calling Mrs. Holbecker.

OUR MODERN IDOL.

Mark Twain remarked, in "Life on the Mississippi," that every small boy in a river town in the old days had but one ambition—to grow up and become a pilot of a river steamer. It was not only because the river pilot, in that era, occupied a position in the top strata of riverside society. He had, in addition, the glamour that goes to a man who is master of a difficult, picturesque and sometimes dangerous calling. He was an expert, almost an artist, in charge of a great mass of machinery, and his position in the public eye was enhanced accordingly.

Since Mark Twain's day the glamour of the river pilot has faded. For a long time, doubtless, the railroad engineer took his place; indeed, even today there is a thrill to the sight of a huge locomotive that must fill vast numbers of youngsters with a burning ambition to become engineers when they grow up. But this modern age, if it has done nothing else, has at least furnished the small boy with an idol more dazzling and exciting than anything any former age could give.

The present era has produced the airplane pilot; and if you doubt that this personage is fit to put dreams and desires in the breasts of youngsters, just visit an airport some day and watch the planes and the flyers come and go—and be convinced.

In the first place, there is nothing anywhere more supremely lovely and inspiring than an airplane in the air. The designers nowadays, just to make things better, have taken to painting their planes in gay colors; and when a red-cabined bird with bright yellow wings soars up from a smooth green field, poises itself against the blue sky and then scuds off to vanish in the haze over the horizon—well, the on looker has seen something as fine as the twentieth century can furnish.

But it is not the airplane, after all, that really appeals to the small boy. It is the pilot.

The average airplane pilot, in fact, is about as prepossessing a person as you will meet anywhere. He has no swagger, no blattancy, no self-assertion, as so many of small-boydom's idols have; instead he is generally quiet, soft-spoken, reticent, even shy. But he has a look in his eye and a set to his shoulders that are priceless. In his daily work he leaves the earth behind him and out-sails the birds. He trusts his life, every day, to his own skill with a cool confidence. He has a magnificent skill and a courage so calm that it usually goes unnoticed.

Was there ever a person more made to order for the day-dreams of adventurous boys? If this mechanical age has done nothing else, it has at least given the small boy an idol that is worthy of him.

A WAR-WEARY WORLD.

The sales rolled up by the German novel, "All Quiet on the Western Front," are still going up—in America and everywhere else in the world.

Figures just released by Little, Brown & Co., American publishers of the great novel, show that 2,515,000 copies have been sold throughout the world. Germany heads the list with 999,000. France is in second place, having bought 440,000 copies, and the United States comes third with 335,000 copies. In all, sales in 12 nations are recorded; and it is interesting to note that even lands like Japan and Soviet Russia—where such a book might not be expected to sell well—have bought liberally.

All of this is a tribute to the book, of course. But even more than that, it is an eloquent sign of the world's weariness. That book would never have sold so tremendously if the great mass of human beings everywhere were not thoroughly disillusioned about warfare.

Which is a very hopeful sign for the peace of the world.

Sir Harry Lauder says that the best book a man can read is his own bank book. Yes, it should hold some interest.

Add tragedies: the unfortunate tramp who asked the stock market victim for nickel for a cup of coffee.

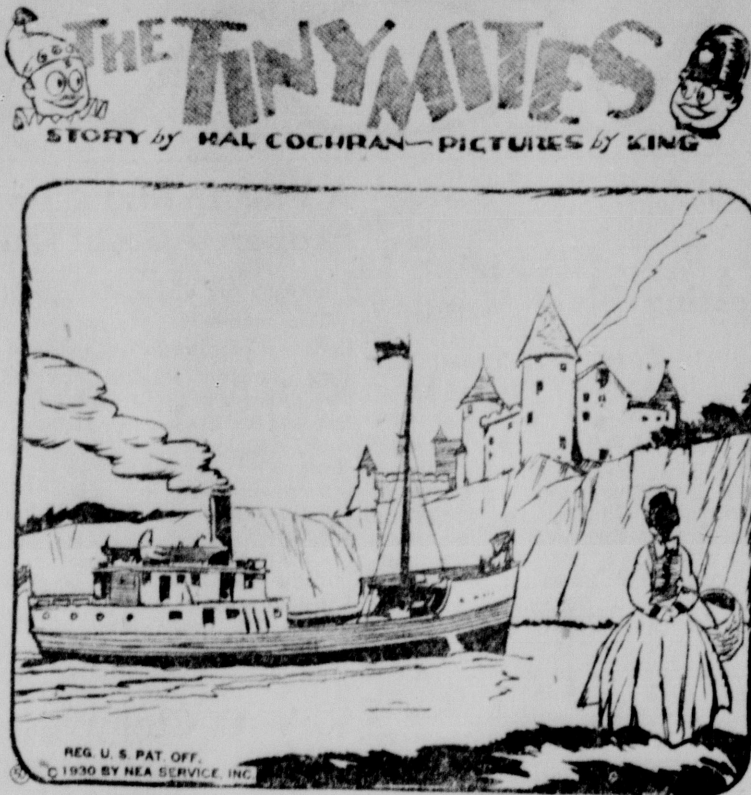

Of course you have heard of the refined panhandler who asked a passerby for 15 cents to buy a chocolate malted.

A chemist declares that 87 different things can be made from coal. There's a fortune for some ingenious fellow who can make a decent fuel out of it.

Still, setting a prize fight to music is not such a novel idea. Boxers in the ring waltz and fiddle between stanzas and very often rock each other to sleep.

"Who Owns the Air?" a Canadian paper asks. Well, we've heard that all jilted suitors get it.

What this country needs is a good definition of prosperity.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Said Scouty "Say, this place is fine. A castle on the River Rhine is something I have always hoped that I would see some day. Does just one family live here? Why, it would be too big, I fear. I wish we knew the people and for days they'd let us stay."

This made the Travel Man laugh loud. Said he, "You are a funny crowd. You tinymites are always up to something that is new. Now, I don't know who owns this home, but 'round about we'll slowly roam. One of you fellows lead the way and we'll all follow you."

Then Clowny shouted, "I will lead. I'm just the sort of lad you need to guide you 'round the castle. Come, let's go back to the rear." And so the bunch walked 'round that way, all stopping now and then to play. Soon Copy shouted "Say, I'll bet there's no one living here."

"I just peeked in some windows and the big inside is very grand, but I can't see a soul." Just then a man came to their side. "I guess you like this place," said he. "I'll take you inside. Follow me. The owners are away." And soon they saw the whole inside.

They thanked the man who took them 'round and then wee Scouty said, "We're bound for Denmark. Now we'll say good-bye." And off they gaily ran. Now we will take the train to Kiel and then a boat trip. 'Twill be real good sport for all of us!" exclaimed the Travel Man.

They soon reached Kiel and hopped aboard the boat as someone loudly roared, "We're off!" And then the boat set sail across the wide Kiel bay. "Oh, gee, I'm very fond of this. It is a trip I wouldn't miss," cried Copy. "My, but we have had a wondrous time today."

MARIA THERESA'S BIRTH
On May 13, 1717, Maria Theresa, Empress of Austria, was born in Vienna.

When her father, Charles VI, died, Maria, heiress of his dominions with the title of Queen of Hungary, was but 23 years old. She was without experience or knowledge of the business of state and her husband, reigning duke of Tuscany, while liked for his geniality, was no leader.

Trouble came thick and fast for Maria after Charles' death. First, several claimants arose for the throne and then Frederick of Prussia, greedy and avaricious, sought to seize Silesia while Hungary was in its disturbed condition. While no one succeeded in supplanting Maria from the throne, Frederick, taking advantage of the fact Hungary's army was dispersed and her treasury exhausted, marched into Hungary and captured Silesia.

There were domestic as well as international problems worrying the young queen. Magyars, although they were sympathetic toward and loyal to the young queen, insisted on their rights for representation. After her coronation she succeeded in settling amicably with the Magyars.

WINTER WHEAT CONDITION NOW BELOW AVERAGE

Field Work In Illinois Is Farthest Advanced
In Many Years

Springfield, Ill. —(AP)—Illinois winter wheat condition is below average and abandonment slightly below average if 1928 is included, but above average without the inclusion of the abnormal 1928 abandonment according to the May 1st returns from crop correspondents of the Illinois and Federal Departments of Agriculture. It was announced by the Federal Agricultural Statistician.

Farm field work progressed rapidly during April and is now far ahead of the generally favorable trend advanced in years, the report said. Corn planting as well advanced in the southern part of the state and well started in the north. Some soybeans have been seeded. Seedlings of clover and alfalfa are reported in good condition although needing rain in some section. Pastures and hay meadows are slightly below average as growth started slow due to dry weather in March and early April. Apple conditions are spotted and generally less favorable than two years ago. Peaches are a failure and berry crops cut somewhat by drought in southern counties. Supplies of hay are above average with supplies of other feed crops about average. Livestock are reported in good condition generally. The farm labor situation is favorable with above normal supply and demand less than normal.

April temperatures were above normal with light frosts recorded during the first and last weeks. Dry surface and subsoil moisture conditions were relieved in northern and central counties but southern counties suffered from lack of moisture. The winter wheat situation over a considerable portion of the state is marked by rather irregular thin and spotted conditions. The heaviest abandonment and poorest conditions for any extensive area are largely confined to the east central and lower east central areas. As a rule the condition and general prospect improves toward the central, northern and western portions of the state. Dry fall and early spring weather, fly and ice glaze in the lower east central area, dry March winds and severe late winter weather with light snowfall are variously reported as contributing to larger than usual abandonment. Dry fall conditions were probably more of an acreage curtailment factor than a damage factor. A large portion of abandoned acreage has been seeded to oats. Some will be put into soybeans.

"Intentions to Plant Reports indicate a substantial increase in acreage of soybeans. Abandonment of winter wheat acreage ranges from 2 to 5 per cent in the northern and west central areas to about 35 per cent in the east central and lower east central areas. 10.5 per cent of last fall's revised planted acreage of 2,257,000 has been abandoned compared with 8.0 loss last year and the ten year average of 11.8 per cent. The acreage of wheat remaining for harvest on May 1st is 2,020,000 acres compared with 2,270,000 acres harvested last year and the five year average of 2,054,000 acres. U. S. abandonment is placed at 11.0 per cent compared with 6.5 per cent last year and the ten year average of 11.7, leaving the U. S. acreage of winter wheat for harvest at 38,676,000 acres compared with 40,162,000 last year and the five year average of 35,585,000 acres.

"The May 1st, condition of winter wheat above last month and reported at 75 per cent as compared with 44 per cent a year ago and the ten year average of 80 per cent. Condition reports range from 65 per cent in the east central and lower central areas to 89 per cent in the north-western area. Low condition reports are due to thinned stands resulting from favorable late winter and early spring weather and fly infestation also dry weather in lower south central and southern counties in April. State production outlook for winter wheat is for 30,300,000 bushels compared with 33,369,000 bushels last year and the five year average of 32,078,000 bushels. U. S. production outlook is for 525,070,000 bushels compared with 578,336,000 bushels in 1929 and the average of 550,636,000 bushels.

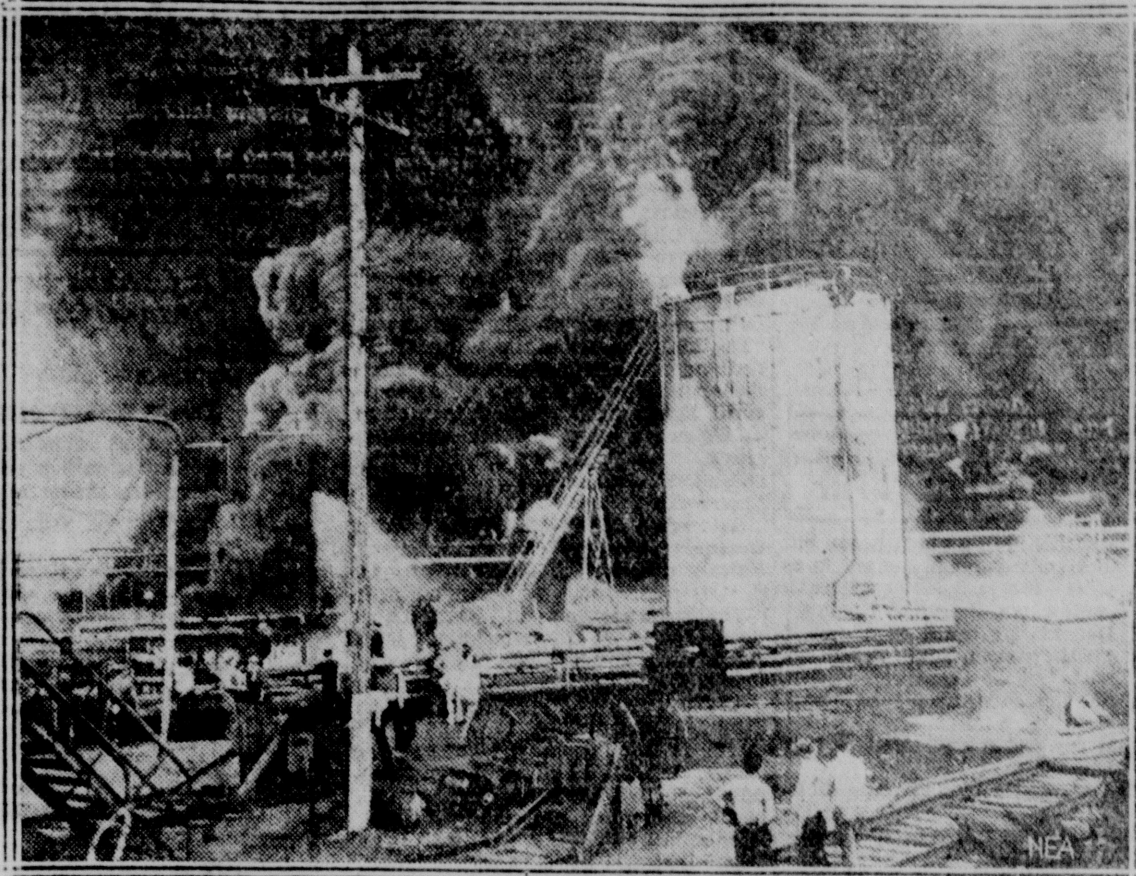

"Illinois rye acreage at 72,000 acres compared with 75,000 acres in 1929 and the five year average of 75,000 acres. State condition at 87 per cent is below average and indicates a production of about 1,084,000 bushels compared with the 1,008,000 bushels last year and the average of 1,119,000 bushels. U. S. production outlook is 46,831,000 bushels compared with 40,629,000 bushels in 1929.

"The condition of hay meadows in Illinois on May 1st, is below average and is reported at 79 per cent compared with 85 per cent last year and the average of 80 per cent. U. S. hay condition is placed at 79.9 against 87.8 last year and the ten year average of 87.1 per cent. Illinois hay reserves are reported at 15 per cent of last year's large crop compared with 13.0 per cent a year ago. U. S. hay reserves are reported at 10.9 per cent compared with 10.5 per cent a year ago and the average of 12.4 per cent. Illinois pastures are below average with a condition of 78 per cent compared to 88 last May and the ten year average of 83 per cent. Supply at 85 per cent of normal."

ASHTON NEWS

Ashton—Second place in each of the judging contests and final awards held at Rock River Farms on Friday was won by the Ashton High School. The fat stock team made up of George Robinson, Raymond Kersten, Eugene Sword, Fred Noye and Roland Wright took second honors in the fat stock judging and the dairy judging team composed of Russell Stephan, Robert Dean, Glen Krug, Hugh Wood and Henry Arends took second place in the dairy judging.

Eleven schools competed, each with a team of five members in each division. Ashton high school fell behind Lanark high school which was awarded first place by only ten points. The following were the teams and points won by each team: Lanark, 938; Ashton, 928; Orangeville, 899; Dixon, 859; Milledgeville, 852; Earl City, 820; Rock Falls, 800; Rochelle, 795; Dakota, 757; Stockton, 756; Mt. Carroll, 719.

Russell Stephan took first honors in the individual honors won in the dairy cattle division, with 231 points. He was also fourth in points awarded in the judging of dairy cows. Hugh Wood was third in judging dairy bulls but tied with another man who won third place on the toss of the coin. Eugene Sword tied for third place in judging sheep and also lost out in the toss of the coin and drew fourth place.

Much credit for the splendid showing made by the boys is due to L. V. Slothower, Smith-Hughes instructor of the local school, who has drilled the boys for the contest. Prof. Slothower is the son of William V. Slothower of Dixon and completed his studies at the University of Illinois last spring. There is great regret among the boys of the high school that Prof. Slothower will not return as instructor the coming year.

ILL. SITUATION NO ROSE GARDEN SEN. NYE STATES

Head Of Senate Primary Committee Coming To State In Few Days

By PAUL R. MALLON
United Press Staff Correspondent

Washington, May 13.—(UP)—A situation which Senator Nye, Rep. N. D., has described as "not reminding me of any rose garden" is awaiting development when the Senate primary investigation committee goes to Chicago in a few days to trace further the campaign expenditures of Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, Republican Senatorial candidate in Illinois.

As chairman of the investigating committee, Nye has declined to amplify his statement, or to reveal the various reports which induced the committee late yesterday to vote for an open hearing in Illinois as soon as possible.

However, there have been reports and unsubstantiated evidence that in the campaign in which Mrs. McCormick defeated Senator Donagan, Rep. Ill., more money was spent than in the 1926 primary which resulted in Frank L. Smith being barred from the Senate seat.

Mrs. McCormick has testified she spent $252,000 of her own money. Her books show only about $6000 of this was spent in Chicago, where the heavy fighting took place. It is understood much of the Chicago funds were supplied by the "Big Bill" Thompson organization and other independent organizations, which also spent some money in southern Illinois.

Contest Threatened
Great interest is attached to the Senate investigation because of the threats that a contest might be instituted against Mrs. McCormick to keep her from the Senate should she win the November election.

Mrs. McCormick welcomed the investigation in a telegram late yesterday to Thomas F. Donovan, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee of Illinois. Donovan has started suit in the Illinois courts to bar Mrs. McCormick from the Republican Senatorial ticket because of her own personal expenditures.

In her reply, Mrs. McCormick expressed gratification "that you and members of the committee have no evidence to support exaggerated reports of my expenditures."

"If your state committee fails to give every assistance now to the Senate investigating committee, it, of course, will not be justified in presenting any unverified statements for political purposes in the approaching campaign," Mrs. McCormick said.

While the Illinois hearing is in progress, one member of the committee may be designated to go into the

CAGLE, ARMY'S GRID STAR, WAS MARRIED IN '28

Faces Immediate Dis- missal for Violation of West Point Rules

New Orleans, May 13.—(AP)—Records in the court at Gretna, Jefferson Parish, Louisiana, today revealed that Christian Keener Cagle, the "Red Head" Army football star, and Miss Marion Munford Naile, a pretty auburn-haired girl of New Roads, La., were married on August 25, 1928.

The marriage was performed by George J. Trauth, Justice of the Peace of Gretna, who went back through his records of the last seven years and located the certificate. Each gave their age as 23 years. Cagle gave his address as 534 St. Ann Street, New Orleans, and his bride's address at Baton Rouge.

Witnesses to the marriage were Garnett H. Todd and Daniel Whitney.

The marriage certificate shows that the bride's father is deceased. Her mother is Mrs. Valentine Herbert Haile.

Mrs. Cagle left yesterday on a visit to the New York.

WILL BE DISMISSED

West Point, N. L., May 13.—(AP)—Immediate dismissal of Christian Keener Cagle from the Military Academy has been ordered today by Army officials, following news dispatches confirming reports of the Army football captain's marriage nearly two years ago, in direct violation of West Point regulations.

SPORT BRIEFS

By United Press.

Notre Dame, Ind.—Fifteen Midwest colleges have entered the second annual central intercollegiate tennis tournament which starts tomorrow at the Chicago Town and Country Club.

St. Paul, Minn.—The St. Paul American Association base ball club has sold Bernie Tesmer, catcher, to the Dallas club of the Texas League. It was announced today.

Champaign, Ill.—The Illinois University golf team defeated Wisconsin, 18 to 0, here yesterday. It was Illinois' fourth consecutive victory.

New York.—Three members of the America cup tennis team will sail for England Thursday. The group includes Miss Edith Cross, San Francisco; Miss Sarah Paley, Brookline, Mass.; and Miss Mary Greer, Kansas City, Mo. Two other members of the United States cup team, Mrs. Helen Willis Moody and Miss Helen Jacobs of California—already are in Europe.

Endicott, N. Y.—Max Schmeling deserted the ring for golf today while his manager, Joe Jacobs, went hunting for more capable sparring partners.

Although he appeared a little slow and stiff, Schmeling had little trouble with the third raters provided for him yesterday. He was forced to hold Sylvan Anderlite in a two-round exhibition bout and twice draped Vincent Babin on the ropes.

Orangeburgh, N. Y.—Jack Sharkey began active training here today with road work and a gymnasium workout for the afternoon. He does not plan to start active boxing workouts until next week.

Sharkey did not work yesterday the first day at camp, confining his activity to a long motor trip with his wife.

Madison, Wis.—The University of Wisconsin base ball team bunched hits behind the effective hurling of Maury Farber here yesterday to win its sixth straight Western Conference victory with Illinois the victim, 3 to 0.

Farber allowed but four scattered blows. Wisconsin got to Hazard, Illinois pitcher, for only seven hits, the Wisconsin players bunched three in the sixth for two runs after Farber had singled Griswold home in the second.

Three double plays by Wisconsin assisted Farber in shutting out the Illini. The game gave Wisconsin a record of six victories and no defeats in the Conference for undisputed possession of first place.

Score by innings:
Wisconsin 0 1 0 0 2 0 0 0 3 7

Carnera Knocks Out Three In 5 Minutes

Ogden, Utah, May 13.—(AP)—Primo Carnera, man mountain of Italy, last night knocked out three boxers in five minutes of activity.
Carnera first stopped Jack Silver, 220, Seattle, in 2 minutes. Al Dawson, 205, Ogden, then stepped into the ring and was felled for the count in 2 minutes and five seconds. The last victim, Ed Wilks, 175, Ogden, was dropped in one minute.

A crowd of 3000 fans watched the Italian giant toy with his prey, knocking each opponent down five or six times before finally ending the battle.

New Golf Ball Is Given Tourney Test

New York, May 13.—(AP)—The new and lighter golf ball has passed its first tournament test with something like flying colors.

The test of the new ball, which will go into general use the first of next year, was made in an 18-hole sweepstakes competition at the Fairview golf club, White Plains, yesterday. Use of the new ball was made obligatory and the test had the sanction of the Metropolitan Professional Golfers Association.

While there was some complaint that the new ball did not put well and was difficult to drive from the tee in a heavy wind, Joe Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y., had no protests to make. Joe won the event with a fine 70, made up of two 35's.

Turnesa's evidence was to the effect that the new ball was good for putting, that it played well out of traps, that it was just as easy to get direction with and that it carried tremendous distances with the wind behind it. He agreed, however, that it made golfing against the wind a trial and a tribulation.

Willie MacFarlane, who had a 77 declared the ball interfered with his putting, but admitted that it was easier to play from the rough. Bobby Cruikshank, although his best also was a 77 declared the ball was a great improvement over the old one and asserted it would put a premium on wood play from the fairway where he thought it belonged.

AYRES CREME DU CHARM will add to the personal appearance of the most discouraged person. If you have a poor complexion you will be delighted with results from Ayres, 6740 Sheridan Road, Chicago.

This Powerful Stride means passing up Repair Bills

NEW ISO-VIS MOTOR OIL gives your engine proper lubrication over the complete range of operating temperatures. Some oils—satisfactory at low temperatures—do not stand up under intense heat. Others that are heat resisting refuse to flow in cold weather. New Iso-Vis strides from one end of the thermometer to the other.

WHEN, at any temperature, an engine fails to get proper lubrication, the result is damage to cylinders, pistons, bearings—and costly repair bills. This fact spurred our engineers to find an oil that would stand up to its job under sizzling heat and that wouldn't harden up and quit when the mercury took a big drop.

To get such an oil, they developed a new refining process. New Iso-Vis is a Wholly Distilled Oil. No undistilled parts of the crude have to be added to give it body as is the case with most oils.

Tests by the hundreds were given this new oil—in the laboratory, in test engines and by widely scattered motor car owners. Only in March was it put on the market... after six months of the most careful checking.

Besides its heat and cold resisting feature, New Iso-Vis deposits far less carbon than most oils—because it is wholly distilled.

And by a special patented process, New Iso-Vis is prepared so that it maintains the same viscosity (body) from the time you put it in your engine until you drain it off. Only the accumulation of dirt in the crankcase makes draining necessary. New Iso-Vis will add miles to the life of your car. Your engine can be drained, flushed and filled with New Iso-Vis at any Standard Oil service station or dealer.

FOUR OILS were tested under the same conditions. Carbon formed by New Iso-Vis is on the left.

WHEN A FILTER removes the dirt from "used" New Iso-Vis, it is proved that this new, processed oil does not wear out in the engine.

4-H CLUB WORK IN OGLE COUNTY NOW PROSPERING

Enrollment Of Boys And Girls Largest In Co. History

Boys and girls in Ogle County are enrolling in the largest numbers for 4-H Club Work this year of any time since the club projects have been sponsored by the Farm Bureau. A total of 550 members in 22 organized clubs are now definitely assured and others are in prospect. More than half of the members in the 4-H clubs will be girls in the clothing project which will number about 250 and they will be organized into 15 local clubs, each with their local leader and most of them with assistant leaders. The clothing project for girls is in charge of the Women's Committee of the Farm Bureau and they have met on several occasions this spring to make arrangements for the club work.

In the boys clubs to which girls have also been eligible there are 32 members enrolled in the beef, calf project who received their calves last fall. The greater part of them are in the vicinity of Polo and are to be organized in a local club in charge of John Tavenner as local leader.

There are 15 members of the dairy calf project holding over from last year who will show their calves this year as yearlings and there will be about seven new members to join the project this year with Holstein and Brown Swiss calves. Mr. Krause, the new field man for the Ogle County Milk Products Company, is assisting in the organization of the dairy calf project.

Thirty-five corn club members have been enrolled and will be entered in three local clubs; one at Forreston of which H. C. Hewitt is leader, one at Lindenwood which will be led by Harold Lazier and one at Rochelle which will be led by K. E. Wehner. R. C. Hartman, who is with the Poultry Tribune at Mt. Morris is organizing a Poultry club and has eight or ten members enrolled.

All of these clubs will hold regular meetings and will make exhibits of their products, either at the Fair or at some other suitable place. Live stock projects will hold their exhibits at the Fair.

DIPHTHERIA

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

Washington, D. C., May 13.—President Hoover has awarded the Charles E. Walgreen prize of $500 for the winning essay in the Second Annual Gorgas Memorial Essay Contest, to Pauline Lodge of Lakewood, Ohio. Miss Lodge is a senior in the Lakewood High School.

The subject of this year's contest was "The Gorgas Memorial: Its Relation to Personal Health and the Periodic Health Examination," and over five thousand essays were submitted by High School students from all parts of the United States.

A state prize was awarded for the best essay in each state, and from these papers the national winners were selected by a committee of judges composed of Dr. Hugh S. Cumming, Surgeon-General, United States Public Health Service; Dr. William Gerry Morgan, President, American Medical Association; Dr. William John Cooper, United States Commissioner of Education; and Dr. Allen B. Kanavel, Regent, American College of Surgeons.

Miss Lodge received, in addition to the five one hundred dollar bills handed to her by President Hoover, $250 for travel expenses to Washington for the presentation. Other prizes were as follows:

2nd National prize of $250 to Canaschia Duncan of Omaha, Nebraska.

3rd National prize of $100 to William Lennon of Williamstown, Connecticut.

4th Prize—Honorable mention to Helen Dale of Point Loma, California.

5th Prize—Honorable mention to Owen Edgar Duffy of Miami, Florida.

The state prizes were $20 to each winner, and to the writer of the best essay in each of the competing high schools was awarded a bronze Gorgas Medal.

President Hoover, who is Honorary President of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, presented the first prize in the presence of a notable group including the national judges: Mr. Charles R. Walgreen of Chicago, President of the Walgreen Company Drug Stores and sponsor for the essay contest; Dr. Franklin Martin, Chairman of the Board, Gorgas Memorial Institute; Admiral Cary T. Grayson, President, Gorgas Memorial Institute; Senators Pess and McCulloch, and Congressman Bolton of Ohio; Dr. Henry S. Wellcome, founders of the Wellcome Tropical Research Laboratories; Dr. L. S. Row, Director General of the Pan American Union; Mr. Robert V. Fleming, President of the Riggs National Bank and Treasurer of the Gorgas Memorial Institute; Major General Merritt U. Ireland, Surgeon-General U. S. Army; Dr. W. F. Draper, Assistant Surgeon-General U. S. Department of Public Health; and Dr. J. F. Rogers of the Office of Education.

The objects of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, for the promotion of which the Walgreen Annual Essay Contest is held, are to:

1. Eliminate unnecessary illness and check diseases in their early stages, thus (a) saving the 750,000 lives lost annually in the United States, due to preventable disease; (b) saving the 300,000,000 days lost annually due to illness and non-industrial accidents of 40,000,000 fully employed persons; (c) building up the 25,000,000 youths and adults in the United States who are now physically below par; (d) laying the foundation for healthier future generations by giving the present day mothers and fathers authoritative medical information;

2. Make life healthier, more enjoyable and more productive, and increase its span from fifty-eight years, its present average, to sixty-five or seventy by educating the public to submit to an annual health audit by the family physician and the family dentist, who should be the custodians of health;

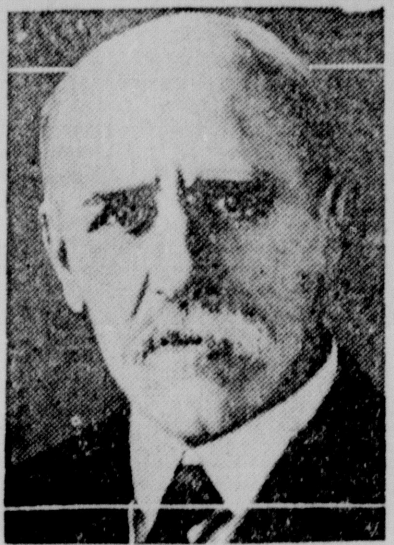

3. Eradicate tropical diseases, thus opening to habitation territories of enormous wealth;

4. Eradicate mosquitoes which are both a pest and a health menace (malaria alone costs the country $100,000,000);

5. Free all the world from preventable disease, the purpose to which the life of General Gorgas was dedicated.

Noted Explorer, Humanitarian And Diplomat Died Today

DR. FRIDTJOF NANSEN

Oslo, Norway, May 13.—(AP)—Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, famous explorer and humanitarian, died here today.

Dr. Nansen was 68 years old. He was widely known as an Arctic explorer, zoologist, diplomat, humanitarian and author. He recently started plans to make a dash to the North Pole next year in the dirigible Graf Zeppelin.

One of the famous citizens of Norway, Dr. Fridtjof Nansen had a distinguished career as an explorer, zoologist, diplomat, humanitarian and author, and while he achieved notable successes in all those fields, he was perhaps best known for his expeditions into the Arctic regions. Science was enriched by his explorations and his work as a zoologist; his country profited by his experience during his service as a diplomat; the lives of hundreds were saved or at least their condition ameliorated by his relief work after the World War, and the world generally was enlightened by his writings. The far-reaching effect of all his works was indicated by numerous honors and decorations bestowed upon him by countries in all parts of the world.

Born October 10, 1861, at Froen, near Christiania (now Oslo), Dr. Nansen came of a family of national fighters who in the seventeenth century deprived the nobility of their privileges. He lived in his native town until he was fifteen, when his family moved to the national capital. There he prepared himself in the lower schools for the Royal University of Christiania, which he entered in 1880 and made a special study of zoology. It was while a university student that he got his first taste of Arctic exploration, making a trip on the sealing vessel, Viking, to the waters of Greenland. After completing his university course he made several other trips to the Arctic, the most important being the "Fram" expedition in 1893.

Dr. Nansen turned his attention to relief work after the World War, interesting himself particularly in the welfare and repatriation of prisoners of war and schemes for the relief of the millions of starving innocent victims of the war in the various countries of Europe.

In 1889 Dr. Nansen married Eva Sars, a noted singer and daughter of Professor Michael Sars of Christiania University. They had five children. Mrs. Nansen died in 1907 and twelve years later the explorer married Mme. Sigrun Murthe.

Thousands of Japanese beetles are being captured daily in this country by means of traps containing geraniol, a bait developed at the Japanese beetle laboratory at the Agriculture Department here. One trap has a record of having captured 13,000 beetles in a day.

Officials cautioned today that when it is desired to protect plants from injury by the beetles use of the traps is insufficient as the trap now recommended catches only a third of the beetles attracted to it. A poisonous spray must be used in conjunction with the trap, therefore, so the beetles which are not caught may eat the poisoned foliage.

Extension service activities of the Agriculture Department are a most readily appreciated by older members of the farm colony as the younger folks, a survey has disclosed. Experience of the extension agents indicates that a farmer is never too old to learn and, in fact, that most of the veterans are eager to acquire new methods of doing things.

The percentage using extension information decreases slightly with advancing age, but does not fall below 70 per cent until the 60th year has been passed. In spite of any lessened physical activity, nearly as high a proportion of farmers more than 50 years old make use of information derived from the county agent as of those less than that age.

The percentage gathered indicate, the department said, "that farmers have been using their land as security for loans to an increasing extent during recent years and that this has been true of farms which have remained in possession of the same owners as well as those which have changed hands."

The major share of farm mortgages are on farms owned either wholly or in part by the actual farmer, aggregating $5,560,017,000 in 1928, while debt on tenant-operated farms was $3,644,009,000, and debt on farms operated by managers was only $264,500,000.

Of a total of 22,352 farms studied during 1925 to 1928, 8,159 carried mortgages at beginning of the period and 8,327 in 1928, while all forms of tenure showed increases in the percentage of debt among farmers owning their own properties. In the group studied increased from 36.3 per cent to 37.1 per cent and on tenant-operated farms from 35.9 to 37.5 per cent.

Farming Factors

BY CECIL OWEN
United Press Farm Editor

Washington—(UP)—Farm mortgages represent slightly more than one-fifth of the value of all farmland and buildings in the United States, latest available data compiled by the Agriculture Department reveals.

Estimates place the total farm mortgage debt at almost $9,500,000,000, an increase of 20 per cent from 1920 to 1928, the department reported today.

Farm owners in the southeastern states appear to be increasing their mortgage indebtedness more rapidly than those in any other section, with southwestern farmers ranking second in this category.

Four geographic divisions showed declines in farm mortgages for the three years ending January 1, 1929, the department said. They were: The Mountain states, seven per cent less than 1925; the West North Central, two per cent; the Middle Atlantic, three per cent; and New England, one per cent.

The major share of farm mortgages are on farms owned either wholly or in part by the actual farmer, aggregating $5,560,017,000 in 1928, while debt on tenant-operated farms was $3,644,009,000, and debt on farms operated by managers was only $264,500,000.

Of a total of 22,352 farms studied during 1925 to 1928, 8,159 carried mortgages at beginning of the period and 8,327 in 1928, while all forms of tenure showed increases in the percentage of debt among farmers owning their own properties. In the group studied increased from 36.3 per cent to 37.1 per cent and on tenant-operated farms from 35.9 to 37.5 per cent.

The figures gathered indicate, the department said, "that farmers have been using their land as security for loans to an increasing extent during recent years and that this has been true of farms which have remained in possession of the same owners as well as those which have changed hands."

The major share of farm mortgages are on farms owned either wholly or in part by the actual farmer, aggregating $5,560,017,000 in 1928, while debt on tenant-operated farms was $3,644,009,000, and debt on farms operated by managers was only $264,500,000.
